Track 2

Mr Thistle: Good afternoon, Emma. Can I have a word with you about two Hiking Club events?

Emma: Yes, Mr Thistle. I heard from Jenny the other day that we are looking to organize a few events for the start of term — a hike and a talk of some sort?

Mr Thistle: That's right. Our first event is on the twentieth of September. It's a Sunday.

Emma: Is it the hike or the talk?

Mr Thistle: It's the hike, and I would like to give you some details about it. Have you got a notebook to jot down some of the information?

Emma: Yes, I have. So, it's Sunday, the twentieth of September. Where are we hiking to?

Mr Thistle: I am thinking of organizing a hike to Wang Chung Stream near Tai Mei Tuk. The hike isn't too difficult and I hope many people will sign up for it.

Emma: And our club will hopefully be off to a good start of the year with a popular event.

Mr Thistle: That's the idea. Right, on that day, we will gather outside Exit A3 of Tai Po Market Station at 8am.

Emma: (writing it down) Exit A3, Tai Po Market. Then are we taking the bus afterwards?

Mr Thistle: Yes, the bus we are taking is bus 275R and the bus journey takes about 40 minutes.

Emma: OK, bus 275R. Sorry, did you say we are meeting at 8 or 8.30?

Mr Thistle: 8am. We should get back to Tai Po Market Station by 2 in the afternoon, so people can still have the whole Sunday afternoon with their friends and family.

Emma: Is this all the information you would like me to have about the hike?

Mr Thistle: I think that's about it. The second event I am trying to organize is a talk by Peter Chung, the famous adventurer who has attempted many of the well-known mountains such as Mount Everest.

Emma: Wow! His talk will definitely be of interest to a lot of students. Have we got a date for Peter Chung's talk?

Mr Thistle: No, we haven't got an exact date yet, but the school hall is available on the thirtieth of September and the sixth of October. We will email him about these dates later on. So, I am guessing the talk will take place on either of these dates.

Emma: (writing it down) The thirtieth of September or the sixth of October. What time does the talk start?

Mr Thistle: That I have not thought about yet. We can make it, say, 4 o'clock? What do you think, Emma?

Emma: 4pm is when school finishes, so a 4 o'clock start may be too early for many people, because they may have just had PE or Biology in the lab. They may need some time to get changed or tidy up the lab. I reckon a quarter of an hour is a good amount of time for people to do that.

Mr Thistle: That's good, Emma. OK, a quarter past four then.

Emma: Is there anything else I should take note of?

Mr Thistle: Yes, at the end of the talk, I would like to have a 10-minute question-and-answer session. This will give students time to raise any questions they may have after the talk.

Emma: OK, I will note this down too.

Mr Thistle: I think that's about it. Thank you for your help, Emma.

Emma: You're welcome, Mr Thistle. See you around, sir.

Mr Thistle: See you later, Emma.

Announcer: This is the end of the listening component of this test. You will have fifty minutes to complete the written tasks in either Part B1 or Part B2. An announcement will be made when time is up.
